

2015 Livingston Land Conservancy Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Livingston Land Conservancy will be held at the Brighton District Library, 100 Library Drive, Brighton, MI on Tuesday, June 30th. Doors will open at 6:30pm and the meeting will be held from 7:00 – 8:30pm. . This year, our featured speaker of the evening is naturalist and wildlife biologist, Beth Duman, who will give a talk on coyotes entitled: “Coyotes in Southern Michigan: God’s Dog or Suburban Devil?”; this should prove to be entertaining as well as informational. Coyotes are being found in greater numbers across much of SE MI and specifically here in Livingston County. This will be a great opportunity to hear more about them. In addition to the coyote presentation, a short business meeting will be held to discuss elections results for both members of the Board of Directors and changes to the By-laws, as well as a short presentation on the Huron River Initiative. Light refreshments will be served during the evening. We hope you can join us for this annual event!
